

Skagit River Resort at Bullerville presents a House Concert

featuring

Amy Hindman

Amy so enjoys the holiday season and loves to share her repertoire of seasonal music that we love to have her here with us too. Once again she and her friend Michael Warmuth, of hammered dulcimer fame, will delight us. Maybe they will also partake in a song-filled hayride, and we're waiting to see what new surprises are in store this year.

Amy Hindman of Fir Island east of La Conner says "I believe that we are spiritual beings having a human experience. My music is an expression of my journey on this earth walk, created through the challenges and blessings that have formed who I am today. As I ever expand, grow, and open to the Mystery, I will not be the same tomorrow. We are, each one of us, creating a beautiful symphony with our lives. Blessings on your journey!"

Amy says she's been influenced by songwriter-performers James Taylor and Joni Mitchell, and her own songs that appear on her CD's Beneath the Surface and the recent Beyond the Edge are truly music from her heart. She performs regularly in local venues & festivals and her own songs are always well-received. When asked, she reveals her repertoire to also include lots of old standards. She does a fine job of getting audiences of all ages to sing along with her, and this ability has her much in demand with churches, schools and retirement communities.
